

Samantha Lo

Open to Relocation | +1 (778) 868-3289 | lochsamantha06@gmail.com

About Me

- Pursuing CFA designation, currently studying CSC (Canadian Securities Course)
- Experience analysing financial statements, and building and updating financial models
- Experience working with external clients and internal teams in financial institutions
- Knowledge of equity valuation methodologies (DCF, comparables, multiples)
- Skills: Bloomberg, S&P Capital IQ, Microsoft Excel (=XLOOKUP, =NPV, =SUMIFS, PivotTables, Conditional Formatting, etc.), Tableau; fluent in English, Cantonese, and Mandarin

Education

University of British Columbia, Sauder School of Business

Vancouver, BC

Bachelor of Commerce, Specialization: Finance

Class of 2028

Cumulative GPA: 4.0/4.33, Dean's List (Honours)

Relevant Courses: Quantitative Decision Making, Statistics in Finance, Financial Accounting

Work Experience

Scotiabank

Vancouver, BC

Customer Experience Associate

Apr 2026 – Present

- Process daily transactions with attention to detail, such as fund transfers and account openings
- Resolve client inquiries and explain personal financial products and concepts, such as investment funds, interest rates, and credit products
- Identify clients' financial needs based on their profile, refer clients to Financial Advisors, and recommend appropriate products and banking solutions

Computershare Investor Services Limited

Hong Kong, HKSAR

Corporate Services Intern

May 2025 – Jul 2025

- Reviewed corporate transactions for 35+ clients by analyzing securities and share issuance data, raising accuracy issues with Transaction Services and IPO teams
- Prepared compliance documents for 120+ publicly traded companies during quarter end, including AGM reports, dividend summaries, and Scrutineers' Certificates

Other Activities

Accenture National Innovation Challenge

Mar 2026

- Placed in the top 4 teams out of 300+ participants nationwide, representing Western Canada in the final round
- Developed a Tableau dashboard and used it to present recommendations for Habitat for Humanity
- Presented a data-driven climate adaptation framework with cost-benefit analysis to C-suite stakeholders, forecasting 15–20% cost reductions and supporting a scalable national rollout strategy

UBC Sauder Capital Markets Challenge

Dec 2025

- Built a buy-side valuation for Nike to support an investment recommendation
- Created a DCF model, performed comparable company analysis, and developed a 5-year M&A forecast
- Assessed competitive position within the market and industry, key growth drivers, and bull and bear scenarios

UBC BizChina

Vancouver, BC

VP Events

Apr 2025 – Present

- Increased event attendance by from 80 to 180 participants by improving outreach strategies, event scheduling, and cross-promoting with other clubs
- Lead discussion panels, networking events, and the annual forum
- Perform FP&A and manage a CAD $50,000 annual events budget, to maximize efficiency and engagement

Other Interests: Piano – ABRSM Level 8 (Favourite piece: Fryderyk Chopin, Ballade No.1, Op.23), Cafés (Favourite café: Thierry), Latte Art, Boxing

Samantha Lo

Open to Relocation | +1 (778) 868-3289 | lochsamantha06@gmail.com

Dear Hiring Manager,

My name is Samantha Lo and I am currently studying commerce at the University of British Columbia. I recently declared my specialization in Finance, and I am eager to use my learnings in the classroom to solve real-world, meaningful problems. I perform well in team environments, where I can build strong relationships, work toward a common goal, and continue to grow both personally and professionally.

At Scotiabank, I developed strong communication, client service, and problem-solving skills in a fast-paced banking environment. As a Customer Experience Associate, I support clients with their financial needs, identify opportunities to add value, and work closely with colleagues to deliver a high standard of service.

My internship at Computershare introduced me to the securities industry, where I worked with large volumes of financial information that required accuracy and attention to detail. Building on this experience, I started a personal initiative to explore how parts of the reporting process could be automated.

I also frequently participate in case competitions that allow me to exercise my analytical and strategic thinking skills. Most recently, I represented Western Canada in the final round of the Accenture National Innovation Challenge, where my team placed in the top four nationally out of more than 300 participants. Partnering with Habitat for Humanity, we used data for analysis, forecasting, and finally issuing stakeholder recommendations to develop climate adaptation strategy to support affordable housing initiatives. This experience reinforced my interest in using business and analytical skills to create meaningful impact for communities.

I am eager to bring my curiosity, analytical mindset, and collaborative approach to your team. I hope to learn from experienced professionals and further develop my skills in finance.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Samantha Lo